

GIDEON HILLMAN LAUNCHES NEW SERVICE AND REBRANDING

Gideon Hillman Consulting launched their new Interim Management Service on 1st March to coincide with the new logo and rebranding in time for Multimodal 2011 at the NEC, from 5th to 7th April. The new service complements the already well established and successful Supply Chain and Logistics consultancy business.

"The Interim Management Service allows us to provide our new and existing clients with skilled and experienced Supply Chain & Logistics professionals specifically to fulfil a role, or to undertake an implementation outside of the traditional consulting time-frame" explains Project Director Paul Trudgian MILT, "Our practical industry experience and extensive knowledge and expertise ensures that we are perfectly positioned to quickly understand the clients interim requirements at a detailed level, and clearly identify the relevant skills our interims possess to meet and exceed those requirements."

The company has a comprehensive register of established professionals who are actively seeking interim positions, with skills and experience covering all Supply Chain functions, and all levels, from operations management to strategic executives and pride themselves on the fact that they can provide fast delivery of the correctly skilled interim to meet the client requirements.

Examples of recent interims that Gideon Hillman Consulting have already provided and recently have been asked to provide can be seen on the website Interim Management section.

The rebranding, which gives a fresh and exciting new look to the business, is as a result of the unprecedented success and significant growth of the consulting business during 2010/2011; and marks the introduction of the new Interim service.

"Additionally if you are not sure what your specific requirements are we are always happy to use our industry skills to analyse client requirements in detail, and to assist in fully scoping all the objectives that could be met by an interim placement. By working alongside our clients in this way, we ensure that their investment is maximised, and all objectives are met or exceeded." added Paul Trudgian.

Contact Paul Trudgian, Project Director, or arrange to meet him on stand 249 at Multimodal 2011 to discuss your current and planned Interim Management requirements and how Gideon Hillman Consulting can be of real benefit in ensuring that the correctly skilled Interim is supplied to you.
